(iv) Hon. LAAULI Leuatea Polataivao Fosi, Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries and Member for Gagaifomauga No.3

The Minister addressed the Assembly, his constituency and all of Samoa. At the outset of his statement the Minister stated that Samoa is an agricultural nation, with 80% of its land utilized for agricultural purposes. He further explained that the wealth of our nation lies in farming our lands and fishing our oceans.

The Minister acknowledged the Members who raised issues/concerns with the Ministry, then began to address each concern.

Taro:

The Minister informed Parliament that countless efforts by the Ministry spent on finding new markets for our taro and to create ways to build the agricultural sector.

- The Australian Market as noted by the Minister has high standards, which the Minister was proud to note Samoa met; this credit goes to the Scientific Research Organisation of Samoa (SROS) for introducing the 'freezing' method of preservation which assured the quality/texture of the taro was not spoiled. In previous years Samoa used to export 40 containers of taro to Australia, currently we are only shipping 20 containers, which gives us the chance to grow and strive for best quality taro that would increase the supply to our export markets.
- The New Zealand Markets takes a total of 150 containers per year from Samoa. In the past New Zealand paid $8.00 per kilo, today they are only paying $3.00/kilo, because the competition is high; Fiji and Tonga are also exporting their taro to New Zealand. The Minister stated that Samoa needs to work together to oust the competitors. He reiterated that farmers need to work together and provide taro that meet the standard of our export markets.
- The American Market was also mentioned by the Minister, stating that this was one of Samoa's highest dependant markets owing to the fact that the value of the US dollar is higher than NZ and Australia. The Minister informed the Assembly, that the Ministry continues to find ways to strengthen the relationship between Samoa and America.

The Minister asserted that ongoing awareness programs were being conducted to inform the public on the different standards required by the overseas markets. On the 11th July 2017, Samoa will showcase these frozen agricultural products (Taro, Yam and banana) in New Zealand.

The Minister also mentioned the 4.8million received from the Prime Minister of New Zealand, Bill English for the development of the agricultural sector; the Minister informed the Assembly that this donation will be distributed between the constituencies of Vaisigano No. 1 and No.2, as these constituencies have the largest cocoa farms in Samoa.

Proceedings were suspended at 11:38am due to technical difficulties and resumed at 11:41am

The Minister continued his statement stating that there needs to be proper packaging facilities available in the island of Savaii, as it is important to ensure export goods are stored securely, to avoid the likelihood of it being damaged.
